

Wrecks and Sea Caves of Mindoro

An Eight Day Diving Trip on the Liveaboard RAGS II – Visit some of the most pristine caves, caverns and shipwrecks of the waters of the Tablas Straits, Mindoro and North Palawan...

May 22nd – 31st 2017 - US$2,280 per person

Trip Overview

The trip will leave Puerto Galera late evening Monday 22nd of May and head for the fantastic wreck of the M/V Mactan at Maestre de Campo Island, with night dives on the Japanese wrecks in Concepcion Harbour that evening. Next day would be Tablas Islands beautiful Blue Hole and the walls around it and the Lighthouse Cave. Day three would have the option of diving Carabao Islands Cathedral Cave and dives at Yapak II and the Camia wreck off Boracay or moving more directly towards North Palawan for extra time on the WWII wrecks of Coron Bay, North Busuanga and the second Cathedral Cave of the voyage. The last sector will be west of Mindoro, at the rarely dived Colocoto Cave and finally, the spectacular waters around Apo Reef. Return home to Puerto is in the small hours of Wednesday, May 31st.

Diving is aimed at, but not restricted to, technical divers. Experienced recreational divers will find all of these dive sites within their safe realm with the exception of Colocoto Cave, where a reef dive would be their alternative. Full support in terms of gases and double and deco tanks, and for rebreathers if needed, is available through Tech Asia and on Rags II.
